1. INTRODUCTION

China's highway transportation has increased dramatically with the construction of infrastructure. Highway transportation carried over 16 billion passengers, decreased 6. 7% compared with 2014. The passenger volume achieved more than 1 trillion person-km, reduced by 2. 3%. The transport goods volume was over 31 tonnes, goods turnover volume achieved more than 5. 7 trillion ton-km, increased 1. 2% and 2. 0% respectively.

There were 16 listed highway transport companies in 2015. The demand for highway transportation is still maintaining the fast growth, but the market share of primary products and bulk commodities is in reduction, the requirement of services is improving now. Highway transport companies could adjust to develop value-added services and large-scale operation.
