About TIO Networks Corp.

TIO Networks Corp. engages in the design, development, and distribution of 'TIO Services', which consist of a transaction processing system that includes financial products and services, such as bill payment and other payment related products/services for the cash preferred marketplace.

Products and Services

The company has five principal products and services including kiosk systems, professional services, transaction services, software, and maintenance services. Kiosk systems include hardware, software and implementation services. Professional services include computer software programming and consulting and kiosk rental services. Transaction services relate to business activity for which the company earns a fee on a per transaction basis from consumer pay-per-use transactions, such as bill payments performed via kiosks the company has deployed, and/or the share in the net revenues derived from its deployed kiosks. It also offers media services.

Distribution

The company, to distribute the TIO Services, has developed its branded 'TIO Network', a national multi-retailer network of self-service and clerk assisted hardware and/or software systems serving the under-banked consumer marketplace. It has entered into agreements with national service providers (TIO Service Partners) that wish to offer their customers the convenience of paying their accounts, as well as obtaining other services at convenient locations (TIO Location Partners). Its location partners include companies, such as: Circle K, ExxonMobil and Sunoco Oil, AT&T Wireless, and Cricket Communications. As of July 31, 2007, a total of 2,053 locations (1,107 devices and 946 TIO Express locations) were installed.

Strategic Alliances

In October 2007, the company announced a strategic alliance with NEXXO Financial Corp. (NEXXO), through which NEXXO's premiere kiosk-based money remittance services would be made available at Circle K and other participating convenience store chains in the TIO Network.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3×3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

- What composes a threat of substitute products and services?
- Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?
- What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?
- How big is the bargaining power of buyers?
- How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

- Tangible resources
  - Financial
  - Physical
  - Technological
  - Organizational
- Intangible resources
  - Human
  - Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
