Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global General and Administrative Outsourcing market size was valued at USD million in 2023 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD million by 2030 with a CAGR of % during review period.

With fast changing technological trends, companies need to adopt best practices, new technologies, or transform business models. For instance, growing pressure to optimize business performance has forced many finance executives to look for new strategies that include outsourcing F&A-based services.

These factors have made companies operating business in several industry verticals to look for new strategies to align people, operate process, and technologies. Organizations adopt advanced IT solutions such as cloud computing, analytics, virtualization, mobility solutions, and digital technologies. The digital transformation in the BFSI, healthcare, telecom, and manufacturing sectors requires efficient planning processes to manage G&A costs. BPO is not new to the IT industry, and many organizations have partially or wholly outsourced their functions such as F&A and HR. Organizations facing difficulties in managing G&A expenses require G&A outsourcing services. The G&A cost applies to each of the functional department, which increases over a particular time frame.

The Global Info Research report includes an overview of the development of the General and Administrative Outsourcing industry chain, the market status of BFSI (FAO (Finance and Accounting Outsourcing), RPO (Recruitment Process Outsourcing)), Healthcare (FAO (Finance and Accounting Outsourcing), RPO (Recruitment Process
