Abstracts

The global mist collector market size was valued at USD 1.3 billion in 2025 and is projected to grow from USD 1.4 billion in 2026 to USD 2.2 billion by 2033, at a CAGR of 6.5% from 2026 to 2033. Asia Pacific dominated the market, accounting for a revenue share of 43.4% in 2025. The market is driven by the increasing generation of airborne oil and coolant mist across metalworking and machining operations.

Processes such as cutting, turning, milling, grinding, and drilling release fine oil and coolant aerosols that can accumulate in production areas, affecting workplace air quality, equipment cleanliness, and operating conditions. Demand for mist collectors is also supported by greater emphasis on workplace air quality and occupational exposure control across automotive, aerospace, heavy machinery, and general metalworking facilities. Regulatory requirements concerning airborne oil mist and other contaminants encourage manufacturers to install or upgrade local exhaust and filtration systems, particularly where machining operations generate persistent aerosol concentrations.
