Abstracts

The global powder coating guns market size was valued at USD 1.4 billion in 2025 and is projected to grow from USD 1.5 billion in 2026 to USD 2.5 billion by 2033, at a CAGR of 7.4% from 2026 to 2033. Asia Pacific dominated the market, accounting for a revenue share of 35.8% in 2025. The global market is growing as manufacturers increasingly adopt powder coating for durable, uniform, and environmentally preferable surface finishing.

Demand from automotive, appliances, metal furniture, construction, and industrial equipment industries is supporting equipment adoption. Powder coating guns enable efficient application and consistent coating thickness while reducing material waste compared with conventional liquid coating processes.

Growing automation in manufacturing is also encouraging the use of electrostatic powder coating systems with improved transfer efficiency, precise application control, and automated operation. In addition, increasing restrictions on volatile organic compound emissions are supporting the shift toward powder-based coating technologies.
