Abstracts

The global Arabic Gum market size is predicted to grow from US$ 406 million in 2025 to US$ 491 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 3.2% from 2025 to 2031.

The impact of the latest U.S. tariff measures and the corresponding policy responses from countries worldwide on market competitiveness, regional economic performance, and supply chain configurations will be comprehensively evaluated in this report.

Gum arabic, also known as acacia gum, chaar gund, char goond, or meska, is a natural gum made of hardened sap taken from two species of the acacia tree; Senegalia (Acacia) senegal and Vachellia (Acacia) seyal.

Gum arabic is used primarily in the food industry as a stabilizer. It is edible and has E number E414. Gum arabic is a key ingredient in traditional lithography and is used in printing, paint production, glue, cosmetics and various industrial applications, including viscosity control in inks and in textile industries, although less expensive materials compete with it for many of these roles.

While gum arabic is now produced mostly throughout the African Sahel, it is still harvested and used in the Middle East. For example, Arab populations use the natural gum to make a chilled, sweetened, and flavored gelato-like dessert.

In this report, we separate the gum arabic (E416) into raw grade gum arabic and refined gum arabic in the data section.

The major players in global Gum Arabic (E414) market include Afritec Ingredients, Elanan Trading, Dansa Gum, etc. The top 3 players occupy about 40% shares of the global market. North America and Europe are main markets, they occupy about 65% of the global market. Acacia Seyal Gums is the main type, with a share about 70%. Food
