Wheeled luggage is a type of suitcase equipped with wheels to enhance convenience and comfort during travel. It is typically designed with either four or two swivel wheels, allowing the luggage to be easily pushed, pulled, or rotated across various surfaces, minimizing the effort required for lifting and carrying. The luggage usually features a sturdy outer shell and waterproof materials to protect the contents from external impacts and weather conditions. It often comes with an extendable telescopic handle, adjustable to different heights for users of varying statures. Wheeled luggage is widely used for domestic and international travel, business trips, and vacations due to its easy mobility and ample storage capacity.

United States market for Wheeled Luggage is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.

China market for Wheeled Luggage is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.
