KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The healthcare providers sector is valued as total expenditure on healthcare in each country. This includes final consumption spending on healthcare goods and services.

Goods and services in this sector include inpatient, outpatient, long-term medical care, medical goods including pharmaceuticals and supplies, and collective services and capital formation such as administration requirements and development costs.

Public spending (e.g. by national and local governments and social security schemes) and private spending (e.g. payments made by private-sector health insurers and individual out-of-pocket expenditures) are both included.

Note that with regards to distribution data (whereby data is broken down to private or government expenditure), the government expenditure segment also includes healthcare insurance funded by private insurers where such insurance is mandatory, for example in the United States. Any other non-mandatory privately-funded insurance comes under the 'private' segment.

Any currency conversions used in the creation of this report have been calculated using constant 2019 annual average exchange rates.

The global healthcare providers sector had total revenues of $8,662.9bn in 2019, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.2% between 2015 and 2019.

The outpatient care segment was the sector's most lucrative in 2019, with total revenues of $3,413.8bn, equivalent to 39.4% of the sector's overall value.

In more-developed healthcare systems, aging populations are significant drivers of growth through increased public expenditure, whilst several less-developed systems are rolling out national health insurance and universal healthcare for the first time.
