Corporate finance services refer to a range of financial services provided to corporations and businesses to help them manage their financial resources and make strategic financial decisions. These services are typically offered by financial institutions, investment banks, and consulting firms. Some common corporate finance services include:

1. Capital raising: Assisting companies in raising capital through various means such as issuing stocks or bonds, arranging loans, or finding investors.

2. Mergers and acquisitions (M&A): Advising companies on buying or selling other businesses, including conducting due diligence, valuation, and negotiation of deals.

3. Financial planning and analysis: Helping companies develop financial plans, budgets, and forecasts, as well as analyzing financial data to provide insights for decision-making.

4. Risk management: Identifying and managing financial risks faced by companies, such as interest rate risk, foreign exchange risk, or commodity price risk.

5. Corporate restructuring: Assisting companies in restructuring their operations, capital structure, or ownership to improve financial performance or address financial distress.
