Powered toilet lifts are assistive devices designed to help individuals with limited mobility safely lower onto and rise from a toilet seat with minimal strain. These lifts are typically electric or battery-operated, featuring a motorized mechanism that gently tilts or lifts the seat, providing a more stable and controlled motion. They are especially beneficial for elderly users, people with arthritis, or those with mobility impairments, promoting greater independence in bathroom activities. Adjustable and often compatible with standard toilets, powered toilet lifts enhance accessibility and reduce the risk of falls or injuries by minimizing the effort required for these movements.

United States market for Powered Toilet Lifts is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.
