Abstracts

The global outlook series on the Forest Products Industry provides a collection of statistical anecdotes, market briefs, and concise summaries of research findings.

Illustrated with 59 fact-rich market data tables, the report offers a rudimentary overview of the industry, and highlights latest trends and demand drivers.

Regional markets briefly abstracted and covered include North America (US and Canada), Japan, Europe (France, Finland, Italy, Sweden, the United Kingdom, and Russia) Asia-Pacific (China, India, Indonesia, Malaysia, South Korea) and Latin America.

The report offers a compilation of recent mergers, acquisitions, and strategic corporate developments.

Also included is an indexed, easy-to-refer, fact-finder directory listing the addresses, and contact details of 447 companies worldwide.

Contents

1.OVERVIEW

Globalization

Major Outcomes of Globalization

Impact of Globalization on Forest Product Supply and Demand

Trade Liberalization

Foreign Investment in the Forestry Sector

Environmental Concerns

The Other Side of the Coin

Environmental Marketing – A Major Industry Issue

Sustainable Forestry Practices – Still a Vague Concept

Certification Systems – Promoting Responsible Forestry Practices

Certification Systems – A Classification

First-, Second-, and Third-party Assessment Schemes

Systems-based and Performance-based Certification Schemes

Current Scenario

Production & Consumption Statistics

Soaring Prices

Constant Growth for Wood Energy Market

Forestry Business Expects Steady Revival

Marketplace Dynamics

Current & Future Analysis

Table 1. World Current & Future Market Analysis for Forest Products by Geographic Region – US, Canada, Europe, Asia-Pacific (incl. Japan), Latin America, and Rest of World Markets Independently Analyzed with Annual Revenue Figures in US$ Billion for Years 2010 through 2015

Commercial Success Continues to be Limited

Mutual Recognition between Forest Product Certification Schemes

Factors Limiting Forest Product Certification

Limited Market Demand

Lack of Supply
Absence of Globally Accepted Certification Standards
Credibility of Certification Agencies
Forest Product Certification – A Financial Perspective
e-Forestry – An Emerging Phenomenon
e-Commerce in Forest Products Industry
Facilitation of Supply Chain Management
Open-Trade Environment
e-Business Modeling
What Ails the Rapid Adoption of e-Model?
Deforestation and Illegal Trading
Plantations – Trying to ‘Fill-in’ the Gap

2.CLASSIFICATION

Wood Products
Classification by Tree-Type
Softwood
Hardwood
Classification by Product Type
Roundwood
Wood-based Panels (Panel Board Products)
Paper & Paperboard
Residuals
Non-Wood Products

3.DEMAND DETERMINANTS

Population Growth
Regional Economic Growth
Industrial Development
Demand-Side Trends
A Changing Demographic Structure
Urbanization in Developing Countries

Rising Environmental and Social Consciousness
Supply-Side Trends
A Shift Towards Alternative Sources
New Technologies Step up Operational Efficiency
Regulatory Environment
Natural Calamities
Factors Affecting Supply of Wood and Other Fiber
Shift in Natural Forest Management Practices
Deforestation and Forest Degradation
Forest Plantations
From an Environmental Perspective²³ Solution
Sustainable Forest Management (SFM)
Implications of SFM on Future Wood Supply
Impact of Technology Changes
Raw Material Availability
Changes in End-use Patterns
Increase in Output
