Non-Hotel Casinos in the US

Playing the odds

While the industry experienced a sharp downturn during the recession, the economic recovery will benefit revenue. With consumer spending on the rise, individuals will be more likely to use their income for discretionary purchases like gambling. The industry's chief competitors will continue to be casino hotels and Native American casinos. Still, the industry will experience positive growth as a result of the improving economy and rising tourism.

This industry consists of gambling facilities that offer table wagering games and other gambling activities, such as slot machines and sports betting. These establishments often provide food and beverage services. The industry also includes floating casinos (i.e. gambling cruises and riverboat casinos). Native American casinos and casinos that operate in conjunction with a hotel are not included in this industry.

This report covers the scope, size, disposition and growth of the industry including the key sensitivities and success factors. Also included are five year industry forecasts, growth rates and an analysis of the industry key players and their market shares.
