Abstracts

Structural Metal Product Manufacturing in Australia

The industry consists of firms that manufacture architectural steel, wrought iron or other metal products that are used as inputs into the construction of buildings and other structures. Products such as doors, window frames and staircases are included in this industry. It excludes items involved maintaining the structural integrity of the building (these products fall within other industries such as Structural Steel Fabricating).

This report covers the scope, size, disposition and growth of the industry including the key sensitivities and success factors. Also included are five year industry forecasts, growth rates and an analysis of the industry key players and their market shares.
