Abstracts

Beijing Lier High-temperature Materials Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as “Beijing Lier”) is one of the largest steel refractory overall contractors in China, and a large refractory manufacturer with the most comprehensive product varieties and the most extensive overall contract scope. Three large-scale plants of Beijing Lier are located in Luoyang (covering over 100 mu), Shanghai (15 mu) and Beijing (less than 100 mu) respectively.

Beijing Lier’s tundish dry material, permanent lining, tundish cover casting material, circular furnace refractories as well as direct reduced iron refractories and other unshaped refractories held the largest share in the domestic market; the company held the second largest share in the ventilation brick market, and its machine pressure shaped refractory products and precast products such as ladle magnesium carbon brick, aluminum magnesium carbon brick and high-quality spinel brick also are among the forefront of China.
