Abstracts

360iResearch predicts the global talent management market to grow from USD 6.46 billion in 2016 to USD 17.57 billion by 2023, at a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 15.38%. The year 2016 has been considered as the base year, while the forecast period is up-to 2023.

The major forces driving the growth of the talent management market include the better professional development decisions and improved onboarding experience. Moreover, high performing workforce and commitment to align business strategy are also some of the factors that are driving the market growth. However lack of awareness, and budget constraints may hinder the market growth. In the middle of difficulty lies opportunity such as the unified integrated system for performance assessments, and need for big data analytics and cloud-based talent management system. The possible challenges for the market growth are a holistic talent management approach with involvement of top management, and lack of skilled talent. But key players in the market are overcoming the challenges with continual improvement and innovation.

Based on industry, the global talent management market is studied across aerospace & defense, banking, financial services & insurance, consumer goods & retail, education, energy & utilities, government, healthcare & life sciences, information technology, manufacturing, media & entertainment, telecommunication, transportation & logistics, and travel & hospitality.
