Abstracts

The in vitro fertilization (IVF) services market in France was valued at $438.7 million in 2015 and is estimated to reach $579.2 million by 2022, registering a CAGR of 4.0% during the analysis period. Delayed pregnancy in women is one of the major factors that drives the IVF services market in France, since the chances of conceiving lowers with age. In addition, the French government passed a law (Law No. 2013-404) in 2013, which allows same sex couples to get married and adopt child born by IVF technique, which propels the market growth. Furthermore, decline in fertility rate in France is another factor that drives the market growth.

Stringent government regulations and ban on surrogacy restricts the market growth. Moreover, France prohibits female same-sex couples and single women from undergoing IVF and artificial insemination to conceive. In addition, the French government has rights to ban the surrogate parenthood within its boundaries; however, it does not have rights to deny the legal status to parent-child relationships of the children and parents because of surrogacy.

The France IVF services market is segmented into end users and cycle type. By end users the market can be further categorized into fertility clinics, hospitals, surgical centers, and clinical research institutes. By cycle type the market is segmented as fresh cycle (non-donor), thawed IVF cycle (non-donor), and donor egg IVF cycle.
