Abstracts

Confectionery is related to food products that comprise high sugar content such as chocolates, caramel, sweets, gums, candies, cookies, and marshmallows. These products are used to reduce stress, alleviate boredom, and to satisfy cravings. Introduction of new products with innovative flavors & healthy ingredients, growth in retail market, and increase in gifting trend drive the market growth. Asia-Pacific is anticipated to register significant growth in the market, owing to rise in disposable income and increase in population in emerging countries such as China and India. In addition, introduction of low-priced, smaller versions of established confectionery chocolate brands by key players has supplemented the market growth. However, rise in demand for sugar-free products on account of increase in instances of diabetes and growth in health concerns are anticipated to restrain market growth.

The report categorizes the global sugar confectionery market by product type into hard-boiled sweets, caramels & toffees, gums & jellies, medicated confectionery, mints, and others (marshmallows, nougat, lollipops, and liquorice). Further, based on geography, the market is classified into North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, and LAMEA.
