The report also entails the market share and company profiles of major players operating in the packaged Biscuits, Breads, Chocolates, Chewing gums, Ice Cream, Sauces, Dressings and Condiments, Breakfast Cereals market in Germany. The report also provides the major trends and developments of the packaged food industry in Germany over the years. Future analysis of this market in the country is provided on the basis of revenue over the next five years along with the analysis of all the segments of the market.

Strenuous and busier lifestyles of the German population result in augmenting the demand for convenience and premium packaged food products in the country. The consumers have been showcasing an inclination towards functional foods, owing to the emerging health and wellness trend among the consumers in Germany. The changing lifestyles of the population are a matter of concern for the German packaged food producers. The ageing of the population in Germany has a significant impact on the food safety considerations as the older population is more inclined towards consumption of healthy and fresh home-cooked food. Thus, this demographic trend is likely to affect the sales of packaged food industry, thereby leading to slower growth of the packaged food industry in the coming years. However, people are gradually making a shift towards convenience and processed food solutions, owing to the time-saving advantage offered by the packaged ready-to-eat food products. The slow growth in the packaged food industry is majorly driven by the readiness of the consumers to spend more on the packaged food items, due to their larger shelf life and hygienic packaging.

With the growing media and health awareness, people are constantly making a way towards healthier food options available in the market. The consumers in Germany have grown more responsive towards the health, wellness, naturalness and hygiene credentials associated with the packaged food products. The new aroused health concerns regarding diseases such as cardiovascular, obesity and others have been acting against the packaged food producers, in terms of the sales and the revenues earned. The packaged food market in Germany has grown at a nominal rate of 0.1% over the period 2008- 2013.

Germany packaged food industry has expanded gradually over the last few years.
