Abstracts

User-friendly Excel database (and hardcopy reference tool) of over 3,400 individual datapoints

Analytiqa's unique database provides an in-depth understanding of which services and operators are available across Europe in the chemicals sector. The research provides high level company profiles of transport service providers that operate in a range of sectors, including bulk tankers (liquids), iso tanks (liquids), dry bulk tankers/iso tanks (powders) and curtain-sided trailers.

The database includes operational and financial data on pan-European providers, country specific providers and service specific providers and helps answer questions such as

How many locations does each provider operate from?

What is the fleet size for each provider? How many tankers and trailers are in operation?

Which quality accreditations does each provider have?

Who are the key clients of your competitors / customers / service providers?

Where can I find contact details (address, 'phone, fax and website) of the leading service providers?

Analytiqa's interviews with industrial supply chain managers and key decision makers will help you:

Source service providers' contact details quickly and easily;

Benchmark providers with brief profile, turnover and employee details;

Target country specific operators or pan-European service providers;

Identify strengths and weaknesses of each transport provider;

Understand the operational capabilities and fleet sizes of operators on a country by country basis;

Identify the key quality accreditations (ISO, SQAS etc.) for each service provider;

Evaluate the existing client base of leading service providers;

Use Analytiqa's research to help you provide you with a comprehensive knowledge base of the service providers that operate across the European Chemical Logistics sector. Where available, the information available for each company includes:
