Abstracts

User-friendly Excel database (and hardcopy reference tool) of over 3,400 individual datapoints

Analytiqa's unique database provides an in-depth understanding of which services and operators are available across Europe in the chemicals sector. The research provides high level company profiles of transport service providers that operate in a range of sectors, including bulk tankers (liquids), iso tanks (liquids), dry bulk tankers/iso tanks (powders) and curtain-sided trailers.

The database includes operational and financial data on pan-European providers, country specific providers and service specific providers and helps answer questions such as

> How many locations does each provider operate from?

> What is the fleet size for each provider? How many tankers and trailers are in operation?

> Which quality accreditations does each provider have?

> Who are the key clients of your competitors / customers / service providers?

> Where can I find contact details (address, 'phone, fax and website) of the leading service providers?

Analytiqa's interviews with industrial supply chain managers and key decision makers will help you:

Source service providers' contact details quickly and easily;

Benchmark providers with brief profile, turnover and employee details;

Target country specific operators or pan-European service providers;

Identify strengths and weaknesses of each transport provider;

Understand the operational capabilities and fleet sizes of operators on a country by country basis;

Identify the key quality accreditations (ISO, SQAS etc.) for each service provider;

Evaluate the existing client base of leading service providers;

Use Analytiqa's research to help you provide you with a comprehensive knowledge base of the service providers that operate across the European Chemical Logistics sector. Where available, the information available for each company includes:
