Abstracts

The global market for active pharmaceutical ingredients (API) has been growing steadily in recent years. Though the economic recession of 2008-2009 affected the growth of the market, nevertheless, the market has bounced back with strong growth since then. However, the industry is today facing a record number of blockbuster drugs going off patent. This is having a major impact on the global API industry as revenues of the API markets are being affected as generic drugs have started to make their presence felt on the market.

The United States remains one of the biggest players in the market, followed closely by China and India. Synthetic pharmaceuticals also continue to dominate the API industry as biotech APIs move up slowly. Major companies such as Teva, Dr Reddy's and Boehringer Ingelheim continue to invest heavily in the API industry and remain the leading players in the global active pharmaceutical ingredient market.

Aruvian Research analyzes the global API industry in its research report Analyzing the Global Market for Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients 2018. The report begins with an introduction to active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs). An analysis of the global market for APIs includes an industry overview, industry revenues, industry segmentation by the biotech API market and the Synthetic API market and a profile of the High Potency Active Pharmaceutical Ingredient (HPAPI) Market. We also analyze some of the major impacts on the global API market such as the ongoing and few upcoming patent expiries of blockbuster drugs.

An analysis of the market for APIs in Asia Pacific is carried out through an industry overview, analysis of industry revenues and industry segmentation, the therapeutic applications of APIs in Asia Pacific and the impacts on the industry. Key markets analyzed in Asia Pacific include China, India, Japan and South Korea.

An analysis of the market for APIs in Europe is carried out through an industry overview, analysis of industry revenues and industry segmentation, the therapeutic applications of APIs in Europe and the impacts on the industry.
