Abstracts

One of the biggest impacts of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic has been felt on the insurance and financial services industry worldwide. In many cases, insurers have already started taking the necessary action for protecting their businesses, which have left many consumers in the lurch in this challenging time. On the other hand, the overall reputation of insurers is taking a further battering as consumers and businesses come to terms with the fact that most insurance policies do not cover pandemics.

With the global economy staring at a recession and a growing number of insolvencies, the insurance industry faces pressure like never before. COVID-19 is also going to impact the various competitive forces driving the global insurance industry.

In this situation, Aruvian Research presents a Porter's Five Forces Strategic Analysis of the Global Insurance Industry.

The report, Global Insurance Industry – Porter's Five Forces Analysis 2021 is useful in understanding the forces that affect the industry as it is these forces that ultimately affect a company's bottom line and profitability. By being aware of these factors, you will be able to adjust your strategy accordingly, taking advantage of an existing strong position or improving a weak link and avoiding taking any wrong steps in the future. Having access to a well-research Porter's Five Forces analysis will have a profound impact on determining the long-term profitability.

Aruvian Research analyzes the Global Insurance Industry in a Michael Porter's Five Forces Analysis. The Porter's analysis analyzes the industry through the bargaining power of buyers and suppliers, the competitive rivalry in the industry, the threat of new entrants to the industry and the threat of substitutes to the industry.
