1. INTRODUCTION

In recent decade, China's pesticide industry has developed fast. The total output of pesticide (calculated by 100% AI) reached 3.74 million tones in 2014 from 0.7 million tones in 2001, with a CAGR of 12.7%. China has become the largest pesticide producer and consumer in the world.

At the same time, domestic pesticide manufacturers have grown strength. According to China Crop Protection Industry Association (CCPIA), the total sales of the top 100 pesticide producers rose by 9% YoY, up to RMB106.3 billion in 2014 and sales of top 10 producers accounted for about 30%. The concentration rate of pesticide industry is increasing year by year, and the larger enterprises play a more important role in domestic pesticide market.

In this report, ASKCI profiles the leading players in domestic pesticide market. It analyzes China's pesticide industry in terms of market information (market size, product structure and profitability), hotspots (key M&A activity and new policy), current industry trend and the competitive positioning of top 10 players in the market.
