INTRODUCTION

Artificial cultivated cordyceps is the most feasible way that medicine manufacturing companies extracting cordycepin, due to underdevelopment of cordycepin synthetic in domestic industry. Consequently, cordycepin is valuable resource especially in medical industry. Since Heilongjiang Shuaiyi New Energy Development Co., Ltd has developed stable cordyceps growing technology which can extracting 98.8% fineness cordycepin.

There is a problem which is lack of regulation in global cordycepin industry; and most artificial cultivated cordyceps content low cordycepin, which is disadvantage for cordycepin industrialization. For current cordycepin industry, there are still a lot of market potentials and technology improvement space.
