About Albina Community Bancorp

Albina Community Bancorp (the Company) is an Oregon business corporation organized in 1993 by a group of concerned community and corporate citizens to promote community development services in North and Northeast Portland, Oregon, to benefit the low- and moderate-income residents and to support and finance private-sector redevelopment projects in the area. The Company was formed to organize, through the investment of the grant from a community trust (Northeast Portland Community Development Trust, the Trust), a Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insured state chartered community development bank (the Bank) and, at a later time, a real estate development company (the Development Company). The Company will conduct business through these two wholly owned subsidiaries.

The Company's activities are focused on promoting investment and development in the Albina district through its wholly owned subsidiary community development bank, Albina Community Bank (the Bank). The Company currently has no operations separate from the Bank.

Albina Community Bank

The Bank is a commercial bank organized under Oregon law, the deposits of which are insured by the FDIC. The Bank's lending programs are focused on residential loans for acquisition, rehabilitation, and home improvement, including federally guaranteed loans. In addition, the Bank offers commercial loans to small businesses, including inventory and working capital financing, and loans guaranteed by the federal Small Business Administration. The Bank's primary deposit base includes large time deposits by governmental entities, corporations, socially responsible local citizens, and program-related investors.

Prior to 1996, the Company was in the development stage and activities were focused primarily on organizing its subsidiaries, developing business strategies and market analyses, preparing applications for and obtaining regulatory approval, raising capital, recruiting personnel, and opening its first branch office. The Bank plans to specialize in home mortgages and small business loans primarily to moderate and lower income residents in North and Northeast Portland.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
