About Arena Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

Arena Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company, focuses on the discovery, development, and commercialization of oral drugs that target G protein-coupled receptors (GPCRs) in four major therapeutic areas, including cardiovascular, central nervous system, inflammatory, and metabolic diseases.

Clinical Development Programs

Lorcaserin Hydrochloride (Lorcaserin): The company's advanced drug candidate is lorcaserin hydrochloride (lorcaserin) for weight management, including weight loss and maintenance of weight loss, which has completed a pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial program. In December 2009, the company submitted a new drug application (NDA) for lorcaserin. The company has completed two trials comprising lorcaserin's pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial program, BLOOM (behavioral modification and lorcaserin for overweight and obesity management) and BLOSSOM (behavioral modification and lorcaserin second study for obesity management). In addition to the pivotal program, the company is evaluating lorcaserin in obese and overweight patients with type 2 diabetes in its Phase 3 BLOOM-DM (behavioral modification and lorcaserin for overweight and obesity management in diabetes mellitus) trial.

APD791: The company's next most advanced internal drug candidate is an anti-thrombotic drug candidate, APD791, which has completed Phase 1a and Phase 1b clinical trials. APD791 is an oral and selective inverse agonist of the serotonin 2A receptor intended to lower the risk of arterial thrombosis and related conditions by reducing the amplification of platelet aggregation, arterial constriction and intimal hyperplasia, or thickening of the vessel wall, mediated by serotonin.

Ortho-McNeil-Janssen Collaboration: Along with its internal programs, the company has a clinical-stage collaboration with Ortho-McNeil-Janssen Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Ortho-McNeil-Janssen) to develop compounds for the treatment of type 2 diabetes and other disorders by targeting the GPR119 receptor.

Earlier-Stage Development and Research Programs

Cardiovascular: The company's primary drug candidate for the treatment of pulmonary arterial hypertension (PAH) is APD811. Discovered by it, APD811 is a potent and selective agonist of the prostacyclin receptor, and is in preclinical development.

Central Nervous System: APD916 is its internally discovered drug candidate for the treatment of narcolepsy and cataplexy. APD916 has completed preclinical development. APD916 is a potent and selective inhibitor of the histamine H3 receptor. The company has filed an investigational new drug (IND) application for this drug candidate.

Inflammatory Diseases: The company is researching and developing S1P receptor agonists as treatments for conditions related to autoimmune dysfunction, including rheumatoid arthritis and multiple sclerosis.

Metabolic Diseases: The company is working on a series of GPCR targets in addition to lorcaserin and other compounds that act on the serotonin 2C receptor to develop other oral therapies for weight management. It is also working on multiple GPCR targets to develop oral therapies for type 1 and type 2 diabetes. The company is also conducting research with receptors that may act to regulate glucose uptake, glucose absorption, insulin sensitivity, insulin secretion, lipid levels, and production of glucose in the liver.

Competition

The company's competitors with respect to lorcaserin include Abbott Laboratories, Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., and GlaxoSmithKline Consumer Healthcare.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
