About BioLargo, Inc.

BioLargo, Inc. focuses primarily on odor control products and agriculture. The company also engages in licensing its BioLargo technology.

In addition to its BioLargo technology, the company owns the rights to market an iodine based water disinfection system (the Isan system), which are acquired from Iteq IP Pty. Ltd. The Isan system is an automated water disinfection system that substantially reduces the incidence of fungal growth, spoilage, organisms, and pathogens in water and on food.

The company's BioLargo technology and the Isan system have commercial applications within the global industries, including agriculture, animal health, beach and soil environmental remediation, consumer products, food processing, medical, and water industries. The centerpiece of its BioLargo technology is CupriDyne, which works by combining minerals with water from any source and delivering 'free-iodine' on demand, in controlled dosages, to balance efficacy of disinfectant or odor control performance with concerns about toxicity.

Odor-No-More Branded Products

The company launched its first products incorporating its BioLargo technology under the brand name 'Odor-No-More', in the animal health industry, which helps customers while controlling odor and moisture: animal bedding additive; cat litter additive; and facilities and equipment wash.

Marketing - Equine Industry: The company has focused its initial marketing efforts of its Odor-No-More products on its animal bedding additive for use in the equine industry.

Livestock: The company's Odor-No-More products have application in the livestock industry, including dairy and beef cattle, swine, and poultry.

Small Pets: The company has introduced three additional animal bedding products directed at the small animal, birds, and reptiles markets.

Competition

The company's competitors include Johnson & Johnson; BASF Corporation; Dow Chemical Co.; E.I.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
