About Channel Resources Ltd.

Channel Resources, Ltd. engages in the exploration of prospective mineral properties in West Africa and Canada. As of September 30, 2008, the company had interests and agreements with respect to the Fox Creek lithium project in Alberta, Canada; and Burkina Faso - Tanlouka Gold Project.

Mineral Projects

Alberta, Canada – Fox Creek Lithium Project: In November 2008, the company entered into a Letter of Intent with Polaris Capital Ltd. for the acquisition of a 100% interest in the Fox Creek Lithium Project (Fox Creek), located approximately 200 kilometers west of Edmonton, Alberta.

Burkina Faso - Tanlouka Gold Project: The company has the option to acquire a 90% undivided interest in the Tanlouka exploration permit which is situated in the south east corner of Channel's original Bombore Permit. The Tanlouka Permit has a significant gold-in-soil anomaly determined by the company's earlier exploration work and has been a centre of artisanal gold mining.

Significant Events

Mozo gold project: As of December 31, 2008, the company had withdrawn from the option agreement for the Mozo gold project in Ecuador.

Burkina Faso - Bombore Gold Project: The company held interests during the year in the Bombore project in Burkina Faso, West Africa under an option agreement with Orezone Resources Inc. and Solomon Resources Limited (Solomon). Orezone had previously earned a 50% interest in the project from Channel and Solomon, each of which held 27.5% and 22.5% respectively. In 2008, the company reached an agreement with Orezone and Solomon whereby Solomon and Channel vended their remaining interests in the Bombore gold project in Burkina Faso to Orezone.

On January 25, 2010, Channel Resources Ltd. announced that it has applied for new mineral permits in five separate blocks in central Alberta. The new permits encompass 435 square kilometers in aggregate, located approximately 300 kilometers southeast of the company's Fox Creek lithium/potash brine project.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
