About Ckrush, Inc.

Ckrush, Inc. operates as an entertainment and interactive media group. The company develops selected scripts, working with talent agencies and producers to attract talent that appeals to the film's target audience.

Film

The company focuses to develop and produce films that appeal to the 18 to 34 year old demographic. It would produce films that have a likelihood of performing well at the box office and ancillary markets. The company intends to distribute motion pictures utilizing third party distributors.

Digital Media

The company, in July 2006, formed Ckrush Digital Media, Inc. (Ckrush Digital), a subsidiary, to capitalize on the growth of new media and the 'participatory pop culture' revolution of online communities and digital technology. Ckrush Digital focuses on the development, acquisition and production of digital content and businesses and works in synergy with its film unit targeting the highly coveted 18 to 34 year old demographic. Ckrush Digital's main business is to develop and maintain web sites, online communities and technology platforms that allow users to electronically create and publish content, including video, share that content with others and/or connect with others based upon common interests.

Ckrush Digital's LiveMansion.com also launched in July 2006, where members are able to meet and interact; create customizable rooms to explore and share personal interests, post photos, audio, and video, email one another and chat on line. Members have the opportunity to post their own content, as well as be able to view exclusive content produced by the company, including content generated from its slate of feature films. The site has been developed to be a cornerstone medium as the company develops a multi-media business — that includes film making and a formidable social network on the World Wide Web. The type of activities to be incorporated in this offering is LiveMansion: The Movie, the first film to be produced online by a social networking community, whose members are playing the major decision-making role in the project, including casting the film and choosing the director.

As of March 29, 2007, the site had a total of approximately 150,000 registered users. In February 2007, Ckrush Digital completed its acquisition of the businesses and assets of Trisoft Media, Inc. and AudioStreet, Inc., including the Websites Audiostreet.net and Mixstreet.net. Trisoft Media's business consists principally of its custom Web design, software development and Web hosting.

AudioStreet.Net and MixStreet.Net are online communities that focus primarily on music and music-based content. The sites provide platforms for the promotion and distribution of songs and allow for interaction between musicians and fans. There are approximately 40,000 bands and 20,000 DJ's on these sites. AudioStreet.Net and MixStreet.Net collectively average 500,000 unique visitors per month and approximately 7 million page views per month.

Competition

The company's competitors include Universal Pictures; Warner Bros.; Twentieth Century Fox; Sony Pictures Entertainment; Paramount Pictures and The Walt Disney Company. Competitors other than the major studios include 'independents' such as Lions Gate Entertainment Corp, The Weinstein Company, Newmarket Films, First Look Entertainment, Motion Picture Distribution LP and IFC Entertainment. It also competes with other Websites of the social network genre that include Friendster and Facebook.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
