About Diamant Art Corp.

Diamant Art Corporation primarily engages in the production, distribution, and marketing of replications of original paintings. It produces replications of original paintings that incorporate brushwork texture, including oil, acrylic, and other textured pigment mediums. The company's primary product line is PVC based plastic sheet and coating, which is moulded to produce the brushstrokes.

The Company through its wholly owned subsidiary, Diamant Film Inc. produces poly vinyl chloride stretch films. The Company through its wholly owned subsidiary, Bio-Plastics Inc., develops and acquires new products and technologies in totally biodegradable products, including the right(s) for manufacturing and distributing such products.

Artagraph Division (Artagraph)

Artagraph replicates both the color and brush stroke texture, so that the resulting works of art are almost indistinguishable, by the average person, from original paintings. The Artagraph Editions include signed and numbered limited editions by contemporary artists, as well as editions of works by the masters.

The company manufactures reproductions of Impressionist and Post-Impressionist paintings, as well as paintings by contemporary artists. A professional artist, who is engaged to replicate the texture, and brush strokes of the original artist's style, also creates semi-originals (a copy of the original art work's texture rendered by the professional artist in an oil or acrylic medium).

The company has a library of approximately 80 different Artagraph titles, of which the majority are Impressionist or Post-Impressionist paintings, some being limited edition reproductions. Once the company has a reproduced title in its library, it could manufacture various reproductions from that title as the market would bear.

Bio-Plastics, Inc.

Through its subsidiary, Bio-Plastics, Inc., the company focuses on exploration and development of opportunities in Bio-degradable products.

History

The company was incorporated in 1986 under the name ART International, Inc., and changed its name to ART International Corporation in 2003. Further, it changed its name to Diamant Art Corporation in 2004.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
