About Digital Youth Network Corp.

Digital Youth Network Corp., an interactive marketing company, provides Short Messaging Services (SMS) text messaging and promotional services and advertising services to Canadian teenagers. The company also provides advertising and market research to its clients. The company provides its services to its subscribers, primarily the teenagers between 13 and 18 years of age.

The Company's technology allows wireless subscribers to interact with television, radio and print media to participate in contests and wireless promotions and to request additional information about products or promotions.

The Company provides free membership in its Digital Youth network to generation DY subscribers entitling them to free incoming SMS text messaging if sent through the Company's Digital Youth Network server, the opportunity to participate in market research surveys and promotional events, and free prizes to new members when they subscribe.

As of August 31, 2005, the company worked with Universal Music to promote new artists and their album releases to its subscriber community, and it explores ways to provide its subscribers with access to legally downloadable music through its Web Site while simultaneously providing Universal Music with a new channel for distribution of its products. Universal Music, a division of Universal Studios Canada Ltd., produces, manufactures, markets, sells and distributes recorded music and represents artists from Canada and around the world.

The Puretracks music store allows customers to legally download music in a Windows Media Player format 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The Company's digital youth network can provide a viable alternative for members of generation DY who wish to download music legally by providing the option of payment by deduction from members' airtime accounts.

The company entered an agreement with Universal Music whereby it distributes 'TrueTones' derived from music written by artists represented by Universal Music. TrueTones are recordings of music that are played as the ring tone on a cellular telephone. In addition to its agreement with Universal Music for Truetones, the company has entered into an agreement with the Canadian Wireless Telecommunication Association whereby consumers would be allowed to text message a particular code to its short code to purchase TrueTones directly from the newspaper or other advertisement where the consumer found the code.

The company works with Digital Advertising Network, Inc., a Canadian company, integrating its SMS messaging capability with Digital Advertising Network, Inc.'s video screens in shopping malls across Canada pursuant to a written agreement.

The company has expanded its Pacific Newspaper Group Inc. project, creating and publishing a full page 'Mobile On Demand' page in the Province newspaper (a newspaper of general circulation in the greater Vancouver metropolitan area), to include four additional major Canadian newspapers – the Ottawa Citizen, the Montreal Gazette, the Edmonton Journal and the Calgary Herald.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
