About EpiCept Corporation

EpiCept Corporation, a specialty pharmaceutical company, focuses on the development and commercialization of pharmaceutical products for the treatment of cancer and pain.

Product Portfolio

Cancer

Ceplene: The company's primary product is Ceplene, which when used concomitantly with low-dose interleukin-2 is intended as remission maintenance therapy in the treatment of acute myeloid leukemia (AML) for adult patients who are in their first complete remission. In 2008, the European Commission issued a formal marketing authorization for Ceplene in the European Union, or EU. In November 2009, Health Canada accepted for review a New Drug Submission (NDS) for Ceplene for the treatment of AML in Canada.

Crinobulin

Crinobulin is a novel small molecule vascular disruption agent (VDA) and apoptosis inducer for the treatment of patients with solid tumors. The company has completed its first Phase I clinical trial for crinobulin.

Azixa (MPC6827)

Azixa, an apoptosis inducer with VDA activity licensed by the company to Myriad Genetics Inc. (Myriad), as part of a worldwide development and commercialization agreement, is in Phase II clinical trials in patients with primary glioblastoma, melanoma that has metastasized to the brain and non-small-cell lung cancer that has spread to the brain.

Peripheral Neuropathy

EpiCept NP-1: The company's late-stage pain product candidate, EpiCept NP-1 cream (NP-1), is a prescription topical analgesic cream designed to provide effective long-term relief of pain associated with peripheral neuropathies. In January 2009, the company concluded a Phase IIb clinical trial of NP-1 in which it studied its safety and efficacy in patients suffering from post-herpetic neuralgia (PHN) compared to gabapentin and placebo. This trial met its primary endpoints. NP-1 utilizes a proprietary formulation to administer FDA approved pain management therapeutics, or analgesics, directly on the skin's surface at or near the site of the pain, targeting pain that is influenced, or mediated, by nerve receptors located just beneath the skin's surface.

Strategic Alliances

In January 2010, the company entered into a commercialization agreement for Ceplene with Meda AB, an international specialty pharmaceutical company based in Stockholm, Sweden. Under the terms of the agreement, the company granted Meda the right to market Ceplene in Europe and other countries, including Japan, China, and Australia.

The company licensed the MX90745 series of caspase-inducer anti-cancer compounds to Myriad. Under the terms of the agreement, the company granted to Myriad a research license to develop and commercialize any drug candidates from the series of compounds with a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license, without the right to sublicense the technology.

The company has entered into a license agreement with DURECT Corporation (DURECT), pursuant to which it granted DURECT the worldwide rights to certain of its intellectual property for a transdermal patch containing bupivacaine for the treatment of back pain.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
