About Fresh America Corp.

Fresh America Corp (Fresh America, or the Company), a Texas corporation founded in 1989, provides procurement, processing/repacking, warehousing and distribution services of fresh produce and other refrigerated food products for a wide variety of customers in the retail, food service and food distribution businesses. Additional services, such as inventory planning and customer support, are also provided as areas of specialization. The Company serves over 1,900 customers in 37 states.

Products

The Company provides and procures approximately 500 items in several product categories, including fresh produce, refrigerated prepackaged produce, and processed foods. Fresh produce includes staple items such as apples, lemons, lettuce, bananas, oranges, grapefruit, onions, tomatoes, potatoes and garlic, and seasonal items such as strawberries, papayas, cherries, grapes, peaches, plums, avocados and watermelons.

Refrigerated prepackaged produce includes presliced fruits and vegetables, including party trays of fresh, precut vegetables. The Company also provides certain specialty types of produce.

At each of its locations, the Company provides fresh produce and related products and services in three primary areas of specialization: program distribution, wholesale and processing/repacking.

Program Distribution

Fresh America offers specialized services to various retail, food service and supply businesses in the industry. These services allow customers, such as Dole Fresh Vegetables, Inc. to outsource certain aspects of their fresh produce distribution function to Fresh America. These services include category management, product consolidation and freight forwarding.

Wholesale

The Company procures certain items from all major growing areas in order to sell and provide services to national and regional retail and food service accounts. These accounts include supermarkets, independent grocers and broad-line food service distributors.

Processing/Repacking

The Company performs certain value-added functions for customers that complement the other services it provides. These functions include produce ripening and repackaging functions: the assembly and preparation of fruit baskets and party trays of pre-cut vegetables; and the processing and packing of various produce items.

Customer

The Company's major customer is Sam's Club, a division of Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
