About Idenix Pharmaceuticals Inc.

Idenix Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a biopharmaceutical company, engages in the discovery and development of drugs for the treatment of human viral diseases with operations in the United States and Europe. The company's primary research and development focus is on the treatment of hepatitis C virus (HCV).

Products and Drug Candidates

The company's HCV discovery program is focused on multiple classes of drugs, which include nucleoside/nucleotide polymerase inhibitors, non-nucleoside polymerase inhibitors, protease inhibitors and NS5A inhibitors:

Nucleoside/Nucleotide Polymerase Inhibitors

The company's advanced development program is its next-generation nucleoside/nucleotide polymerase inhibitor, IDX184, a liver-targeted nucleotide prodrug candidate that enables the delivery of nucleoside monophosphate to the liver. In October 2009, it initiated a 14-day dose-ranging phase IIa clinical trial evaluating IDX184 in combination with pegylated interferon and ribavirin in treatment-naïve HCV genotype 1 infected patients. This clinical trial is ongoing.

Non-Nucleoside Polymerase Inhibitors

The company's primary drug candidate for its non-nucleoside inhibitor program is IDX375, a palm-binding polymerase inhibitor. In September 2009, the company submitted a clinical trial application (CTA) for a choline salt form of IDX375. In November 2009, the company initiated a single ascending dose phase I clinical study in healthy volunteers, in which IDX375 exhibited favorable safety and pharmacokinetics properties. It also submitted a CTA for a free acid form of IDX375.

Protease Inhibitors

The company selected IDX320 as its primary clinical candidate from its protease inhibitor discovery program. IDX320 is a non-covalent macrocyclic inhibitor. The company submitted a CTA for IDX320 in December 2009 and initiated a phase I healthy volunteer clinical study in January 2010.

NS5A Inhibitors

In 2009, the company has initiated an NS5A discovery program.

Licensed Products

In addition, the company has licensed its telbivudine (Tyzeka/Sebivo), a drug for the treatment of hepatitis B virus, to Novartis Pharma AG (Novartis); and GSK2248761, a drug candidate from the class of compounds known as non-nucleoside reverse transcriptase inhibitors (NNRTIs), for the treatment of human immunodeficiency virus type 1 and acquired immune deficiency syndrome to GlaxoSmithKline.

Sales and Marketing

The company, in accordance with its development and commercialization agreement with Novartis, has the right to co-promote or co-market with Novartis in the United States, United Kingdom, France, Germany, Italy and Spain any products that Novartis licenses from the company.

Competition

The company identifies competition from Abbott Laboratories; Boehringer Ingelheim International GmbH; F. Hoffman-LaRoche & Co.; Johnson & Johnson; Merck & Co., Inc.; Pfizer, Inc.; Human Genome Sciences, Inc.; InterMune, Inc.; Isis Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; Ribapharm, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Valeant Pharmaceuticals International; SciClone Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; Anadys Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; Pharmasset, Inc.; Vertex Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; and Achillion Pharmaceuticals, Inc. ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3×3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
