About Intelligent Communication Enterprise Corp.

Intelligent Communication Enterprise Corporation engages in the integrated mobile communications business.

Mobiclear

The company's Mobiclear division has developed electronic proprietary PIV solutions for use with credit/debit card and Internet log-in transactions. Its multiple-gateway solution offers proactive security in all forms of electronic business environments, including Internet shopping, business-to-business procurement transactions, and retail shopping with credit/debit cards.

The company's solutions represent a major inhibitor of electronic transaction fraud, specifically in the areas of credit card cloning; credit card theft; credit card not present (i.e., as in the case of e-shopping); and identity theft. In addition, its identification service ensures safe and secure trade over the Internet, which in turn promotes both e-trade and invoice payment online.

Radius

The company's Radius division provides mobile-marketing programs and solutions using its own proprietary messaging platforms with connectivity with global networks. Its operations are based in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, with a support group based in the Philippines.

The Radius platform allows its customers to send short message service (SMS) messages to selected mobile phones using the cellular phone networks. Radius customers fall under two categories, including messaging aggregator customers, who collect multimedia messages from their corporate and wholesale customers and send them to Radius for processing and onward termination on the mobile networks worldwide that Radius is connected to; and enterprise customers, who are companies and individuals with the need to keep in contact with their customers, members, or other such groups via SMS.

Radius's products to its messaging aggregator customers and enterprise customers include text messaging (SMS); customer participation such as contests, voting, surveys, content downloads (ringtone and wallpaper) (premium SMS); accessing the wireless web on the mobile (WAP); Multimedia Messaging Service (MMS); strategic planning of enterprise customers' mobile-marketing requirements; project coordination and implementation; and billing.

Radius works with cellular operators and mobile-messaging partners to fulfill its SMS and Multimedia Messaging delivery requirements.

Solesys

The company's Solesys division, based in Switzerland, also provides mobile-marketing programs and solutions.

Significant Events

In August 2010, Intelligent Communication Enterprise Corp. announced that it has entered into a collaboration agreement with Galaxy Worldwide Holdings Ltd. for ICE Corp's mobile video content distribution business.
