About Lacrosse Footwear Inc.

LaCrosse Footwear, Inc. engages in the development and marketing of branded footwear for work and outdoor users.

Products

The company's primary brands are Danner and LaCrosse.

Danner: Danner products consist of work and outdoor boots. It includes a waterproof, breathable GORE-TEX liner (seam taped insert) in its leather boots. Danner's product offerings include product categories, such as uniform, hunting, work, hiking, and accessories.

LaCrosse: The LaCrosse brand includes rubber and leather footwear, as well as a line of rainwear and protective clothing. LaCrosse's product offerings include product categories, such as hunting, work, cold weather, and apparel and accessories.

Customers, Sales, and Distribution

The company markets its two brands through four channels of distribution: wholesale, government, consumer direct, and international. Its wholesale channel accounts consist of approximately 3,300 customers, including sporting goods and outdoor retailers, general merchandise and independent shoe stores, wholesalers, and industrial distributors. The government channel provides performance footwear built to meet the demands and specific requirements for multiple branches of the U.S. military, as well as federal, state, and other government agencies. Through the consumer direct channels of distribution, the company operates four Internet Web sites for use by consumers and retailers. Its brands are distributed internationally through its Danish subsidiary, LaCrosse Europe ApS, and through distributors and retailers in Asia, Europe, and Canada.

In addition to its four channels of distribution, the company sells its products into two primary markets: work and outdoor. Its work customers include people in law enforcement, transportation, mining, oil and gas, military services and other occupations that need protective footwear as a critical tool for the job. Its outdoor customers include people active in hunting, hiking, and other outdoor recreational activities.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
