About Merge Healthcare Incorporated.

Merge Healthcare Incorporated develops solutions that automate healthcare data and diagnostic workflow to enable an electronic record of the patient experience, and to enhance product development for health IT, device, and pharmaceutical companies and deliver related services.

Segments

The company sells these solutions through two segments: Direct and Indirect.

Direct segment sells finished applications to hospitals, imaging centers and specialty clinics located in the U.S., as well as global pharmaceutical, medical device, biotech and contract research organizations, and also distributes certain products through the Internet via its Website.

Indirect segment sells software development toolkits, technologies and Computer Aided Detection (CAD) applications to companies that develop, manufacture or resell health IT or medical imaging software or devices as well as finished applications to value added resellers (VARs) and foreign distributors.

Business

The company's business is health information technology software, which can involve any aspect of development or distribution of applications that provide electronic health information exchange. In July 2009, the company acquired etrials Worldwide Inc. to expand the market for solutions that the company sells to the clinical trials industry. Upon completion of the acquisition, the company renamed the entity Merge eClinical.

In September 2009, the company acquired Confirma, Inc., a privately-held company that specializes in CAD for the MRI modality. Upon completion of the acquisition, the company renamed the entity Merge CAD.

The company's overall product lines consist of: software development toolkits, technologies and platforms, which provide software developers with resources to speed new product development and to enhance existing products; diagnostic workstation software applications, which bring specialized reading and review tools to the clinician's desktop; Radiology Information Systems (RIS) and related applications, which manage the business workflow of an imaging enterprise; Picture Archiving and Communication Systems (PACS) and related applications, which manage the image workflow of an imaging enterprise; Advanced image post-processing applications like CAD, which automate the reading of complex MR imaging studies; hosted software solutions for clinical trials data management, including Electronic Data Capture (EDC), Interactive Voice/Web Response (IVR/IWR) and electronic patient reported outcomes (ePRO) software and devices; and Anesthesia Information Management Systems (AIMS) and data input device, which collect and integrate all peri-operative anesthesia information into an electronic health record.

Direct segment Products and Services

Fusion RIS/PACS MX automates image and information workflow for imaging practices from procedure scheduling, through the procedure, the image reading and reporting by a radiologist, the distribution of the report and finally the generation of a bill for the exam. This solution contains optional modules to enhance the workflow, including a referring physician Web portal, billing and business analytics. The Fusion RIS and Fusion PACS can also be licensed and utilized separately. The Fusion PACS contains an integrated digital mammography application, also sold as a standalone clinical workstation, called Merge Mammo.

eFilm Workstation is a diagnostic workstation. eFilm Workstation is a desktop diagnostic, image and analysis tool for viewing and interpreting medical images, and is used in ways as disparate as teaching imaging, testing new imaging products, veterinary imaging, technologist quality control, remote reading and CD burning of images. In 2009, the company added eFilm Archive to bring image storage to eFilm Workstation customers, as well as localizing the product into several languages.

The Frontiers AIMS peri-operative management solution builds an electronic record of the patient's surgical experience while allowing the anesthesiologist to maintain patient contact. An electronic surgical dashboard application alerts the entire operating room to the status of each patient. In 2009, the

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
