About NeurogesX, Inc.

NeurogesX, Inc., a biopharmaceutical company, focuses on developing and commercializing pain management therapies. The company is in the process of assembling a portfolio of pain management product candidates based on known chemical entities to develop new therapies. Its initial focus is on the management of chronic peripheral neuropathic pain conditions.

Qutenza

Qutenza is a non-narcotic analgesic formulated in a localized treatment patch containing an 8% concentration of synthetic capsaicin. Capsaicin is released from the patch and, with the aid of penetration enhancers, penetrates into the skin during application without significant absorption of capsaicin into the bloodstream. Qutenza is administered by a physician or by a health care professional under the direct supervision of a physician in a non-invasive process that involves pre-treating the painful area with a topical anesthetic, followed by the application of Qutenza. Qutenza can be used alone or in conjunction with other pain medications.

Qutenza has been approved by the FDA (U.S, Food and Drug Administration) for the management of neuropathic pain associated with PHN (postherpetic neuralgia) and is the prescription strength product containing capsaicin, Qutenza's active ingredient. Qutenza has also been approved in the European Union for the treatment of peripheral neuropathic pain in non-diabetic adults, either alone or in combination with other medicinal products for pain.

In May 2009, Qutenza received a marketing authorization or MA, in the European Union for the treatment of peripheral neuropathic pain in non-diabetic adults, either alone or in combination with other medicinal products for pain.

Other Product Development Programs

NGX-1998—Liquid High Concentration Topical Capsaicin

The company is in the process of developing a liquid formulation of the same active ingredient in Qutenza for the treatment of peripheral neuropathic pain, as well as potentially for other chronic pain syndromes.

Acetaminophen Prodrug Candidates—Preclinical Program

Acetaminophen is the drug for pain relief and the reduction of fever in the United States and is available in pharmaceutical products.

NGX-6052 Opioid Analgesic Prodrug Preclinical Program

Opioid analgesics, a mainstay of pain management, are used to manage pain associated with a variety of acute and chronic conditions. The company has designed and synthesized prodrugs of commonly prescribed opioid analgesics. Its advanced compound, NGX-6052, has been evaluated in vitro and in vivo proof-of-concept studies.

Astellas License Agreement and Supply Agreement

In June 2009, the company entered into the Astellas (Astellas Pharma Europe Ltd.) agreement, with Astellas under which Astellas was granted a license to commercialize Qutenza in the European Economic Area, which includes the 27 countries of the European Union, Iceland, Norway, and Liechtenstein, as well as Switzerland, certain countries in Eastern Europe, the Middle East, and Africa or the Licensed Territory.

Competition

The company's competitors include Pfizer, GlaxoSmithKline, Abbott Laboratories, Endo Pharmaceuticals, Depomed, Inc., Newron Pharmaceuticals S.p.A., Novartis AG, UCB S.A., and Eli Lilly and Company.

History

NeurogesX, Inc. was founded in 1998. The company was formerly known as Advanced Analgesics, Inc. and changed its name to NeurogesX, Inc. in 2000.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
