About Pall Corp.

Pall Corporation operates as a filtration, separation, and purification company. The company's proprietary products are used to discover, develop, and produce biotechnology drugs and vaccines, protect hospital patients, keep equipment (such as manufacturing equipment and airplanes) running, produce safe drinking water, and to protect the environment.

Segments

The company serves customers through two segments globally, Life Sciences and Industrial.

LIFE SCIENCES SEGMENT

The Life Sciences segment is focused on developing, manufacturing, and selling products to customers in the medical, biopharmaceuticals, and food and beverage marketplaces. Its life sciences technologies facilitate the process of drug discovery, development, regulatory validation, and production. They are used in the research laboratory, pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and food and beverage industries, in blood centers and in hospitals at the point of patient care.

Medical Market

The company's medical products improve the safety of the use of blood products in patient care and help control the spread of infections in hospitals. Its cell therapy product portfolio provides enabling technologies for the emerging regenerative medicine market. The company's blood filters remove unwanted white blood cells from donor blood. Its Acrodose PL System enables blood centers to tap into the abundant, but often discarded, supply of whole blood platelets. The company's breathing-circuit, intravenous and point-of-use Pall-Aquasafe water filters help protect people from these infections.

Competition: The company's principal competitors in the medical market include Fenwal, Inc.; MacoPharma Group; Fresenius Medical Care AG & Co.; Merck Millipore (a division of Merck KGaA); GE Healthcare (a unit of General Electric Company (GE)); Tyco International Ltd.; Teleflex Incorporated; Terumo Medical Corporation; and Capital Health Inc.

Biopharmaceuticals Market

The company sells a line of filtration and purification technologies and engineered systems primarily to pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies for use by them in the development and commercialization of chemically synthesized and biologically derived drugs and vaccines. It provides a range of advanced filtration solutions for each critical stage of drug development through drug production. Its filtration systems and validation services assist drug manufacturers through the regulatory process and on to the market. The company's laboratory product line is used in areas, such as drug research and discovery, quality control testing and in environmental monitoring applications for a host of industries.

Competition: The company's principal competitors in the biopharmaceuticals market include Merck Millipore (a division of Merck KGaA); The Sartorius Group, CUNO (a 3M company); and GE Healthcare (a unit of GE).

Food and Beverage Market

Within the Food & Beverage market, the company serves the filtration needs of the beer, wine, dairy, soft drink, bottled water, and food ingredient markets.

Competition: The company's principal competitors in the food and beverage market include Norit Group; Filtrox Group; The Sartorius Group; BEGEROW; and Parker domnick hunter, a division of Parker Hannifin.

INDUSTRIAL SEGMENT

The Industrial segment is focused on developing, manufacturing, and selling products to customers in the aeropower, microelectronics, and energy and water markets. It provides enabling and process enhancing technologies throughout the industrial marketplace. The company provides customers with integrated solutions for their process fluids.

Energy and Water Market

This market consists of producers of energy, oil, gas, renewable and alternative fuels, electricity, chemicals, and municipal water.

Competition: The company's primary competitors in the energy and water market include CUNO (a 3M company); GE Infrastructure (a unit of GE); U.S. Filter (a Siemens business); and CLARCOR Inc.

Aeropower Market

The company sells filtration and fluid monitoring equipment to the aerospace industry for use on commercial and military aircraft, ships and land-based military vehicles to help protect critical systems and components. It also sells filtration solutions to the machinery and equipment submarkets, which consist of a grouping of producers of mobile equipment and trucks, pulp and paper, mining, automotive, and metals. The company's products are sold to customers through a combination of direct sales to airframe manufacturers and other customers, including the U.S. military, and through the company's distribution partner, Satair A/S, for the commercial aerospace 'aftermarket', such as sales to commercial airlines.

Competition: The company's principal competitors in the aeropower market include Donaldson Company, Inc.; Parker Hannifin Corporation; ESCO Technologies Inc.; and CLARCOR Inc.

Microelectronics Market

The company sells filtration and purification technologies for the semiconductor, data storage, fiber optic, advanced display, and materials markets. It provides a suite of contamination control solutions for chemical, gas, water, chemical mechanical polishing, and photolithography processes to meet the needs of this demanding industry. Its products are sold to customers in this market through its own personnel, distributors, and manufacturers' representatives.

Competition: The company's principal competitors in the microelectronics market include Entegris, Inc. and Mott Corporation.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3×3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
