About Panacos Pharmaceuticals Inc.

Panacos Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a development stage biotechnology company, engages in the discovery and development of small-molecule oral drug designed to treat Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV), and other major human viral diseases.

HIV Programs

Bevirimat

The company's primary product candidate, bevirimat, is an oral HIV drug candidate in Phase 2 clinical testing. It has worldwide commercialization rights to bevirimat.

Bevirimat is the first in a new class of drug candidates that works by a mechanism of action called maturation inhibition.

Other Bevirimat Clinical Trials

In 2007, the company completed a bevirimat site of absorption study in humans. The results showed that bevirimat has a long absorption window, with absorption occurring along the entire small bowel and to a lesser degree in the colon. The company also completed a Phase 1 clinical trial with two distinct liquid formulations of bevirimat suitable for long-term dosing in HIV patients. Both formulations have similar bioavailability to the solution formulation that was used in Study 203.

Bevirimat Preclinical Studies

The company completed preclinical studies that indicate that bevirimat is non-teratogenic. It also completed chronic toxicology studies of bevirimat.

Other Research and Development Programs

Maturation Inhibition: The company has established research and development programs designed to generate second- and third-generation maturation inhibition products. Second-generation maturation inhibitors are structural analogs of bevirimat and its third-generation program seeks to discover maturation inhibitors with different chemical structures. In 2007, the company completed a Phase 1 clinical trial of PA-040, a second-generation maturation inhibitor.

Oral Fusion Inhibition: The company has a research and development program focused on the initial step in the HIV virus life cycle, fusion of the HIV virus to human cells. Fusion inhibition is a target for oral drug development. The approved HIV fusion inhibitor, enfuvirtide, is a peptide drug.

Suppliers

The company has arranged for the manufacture of bevirimat bulk drug substance used to date in clinical and animal toxicology studies through a single contract manufacturing and development company, Boehringer Ingelheim Chemicals, Inc.

Competition

The company's competitors include Gilead; GlaxoSmithKline; Bristol-Myers Squibb; Roche; Pfizer; Boehringer Ingelheim; Abbott; Merck; Johnson & Johnson; Trimeris; Myriad Genetics; Incyte; Progenics; Achillion; Avexa; Vertex; and Pharmasset.

History

Panacos Pharmaceuticals, Inc. was founded in 1999.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
