About Planet America Inc.

Planet America, Inc. (Planet America or the Company) was incorporated in 1995 under the laws of the State of Delaware. The Company creates Local Area Webs™ (LAWs™) that are local versions of the Worldwide Web customizable to specific local needs. LAWs™ help local communities, citizens, businesses, non-profit organizations, and governments take advantage of the Internet phenomenon in a more meaningful and practical way. LAWs™ are built using IBM Corporation's (IBM) Lotus Domino™ software and are fundamentally designed for ease of use. Planet Today as agent for Planet America engages in the marketing, sale and development of LAWs™ in Canada. The Company is engaged in the marketing, sale and development of LAWs™ in the United States. In addition, a subsidiary company, Planet Newspapers Inc., is engaged in the marketing, selling and development of a monthly community-based magazine in Canada called The Month Ahead-Your Community Internet Guide.

The Company intends to market, sell and develop shared electronic platform technology (e-Property Technology) which is used to establish private community-based or geographically-based local area Internet websites called Local Area Webs (LAWs™) in the United States and Canada. The e-Property Technology can be described generally as a shared electronic platform that is capable of hosting a full range of interactive services including collaborative information and file sharing, e-commerce and e-business transactions, relationship building, permission marketing and messaging between individuals, groups, business, governments and associations. It is based on commercial intranet/extranet models used by corporations to enhance business activities at local levels by servicing e-commerce, e-business, and information technology needs of local or regional businesses, governments and organizations. The e-Property Technology provides a simple and low cost method for publishing, sharing, co-editing, integrating, transacting, collecting and messaging information.

The majority of the company's future products and services relate to providing Internet-related information, and facilitating e-commerce and e-business services to community-based associations and organizations and businesses located in those communities.

Competition

The Company faces competition in the overall Internet/intranet market by Microsoft Corporation and Netscape Communications Corporation. The Company also faces competition from America Online, Inc. (AOL) (WebCrawler), Yahoo!

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
