Segments

The company's business segments include Casualty segment, Property segment, and Surety segment.

Casualty segment

General Liability: The company's general liability business consists primarily of coverage for third party liability of commercial insureds, including manufacturers, contractors, apartments, and mercantile.

Commercial and Personal Umbrella Liability: The company's commercial umbrella coverage is principally written in excess of primary liability insurance provided by other carriers and, to a modest degree, in excess of primary liability written by the company. The personal umbrella coverage is written in excess of the homeowners and automobile liability coverage provided by other carriers, except in Hawaii, where some underlying homeowners' coverage is written by the company.

Commercial Transportation: The company's transportation insurance facility in Atlanta provides automobile liability and physical damage insurance to local, intermediate and long haul truckers, public transportation risks and equipment dealers. The company also offers incidental, related insurance coverages, including general liability, commercial umbrella and excess liability, and motor truck cargo.

Executive Products: The company provides various professional liability coverages, such as directors' and officers' (D&O) liability insurance, employment practices liability and other miscellaneous professional liability coverages, for various low to moderate classes of risks. The company's target accounts include publicly traded companies with low market capitalization, Clause 1 (also known as 'Side A' coverage, which is direct liability coverage for the individual directors and officers), private companies, nonprofit organizations, and sole-sponsored and multi-employer fiduciary liability accounts.

Specialty Program Business: The company offers program business in various areas, which are multiple coverages combined into a package or portfolio policy. The company's program coverage includes commercial property, general liability, inland marine, and crime.

Other: The company offers various other smaller programs in its casualty segment, including in-home business and employer's excess indemnity.

Property segment

Commercial: The company's commercial property coverage consists primarily of excess and surplus lines and specialty insurance such as fire, earthquake and 'difference in conditions,' which can include earthquake, wind, flood and collapse coverages, and inland marine. The company provides insurance for a range of commercial and industrial risks, such as office buildings, apartments, condominiums, and certain industrial and mercantile structures. The company also writes boiler and machinery coverage under the same management as commercial property.

Marine: Marine coverages include hull, cargo and protection and indemnity (P&I), as well as inland marine coverages, including builders' risks, contractors' equipment and other 'floater' type coverages.

Other: The company offers various other smaller programs in its property segment, including a limited amount of homeowners and dwelling fire insurance in Hawaii.

Surety segment

The Surety segment specializes in writing small-to-large commercial and small contract surety coverages, as well as those for the energy (plugging and abandonment of oil wells), petrochemical, and refining industries. ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3×3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
