About Tegal Corp.

Tegal Corporation engages in the design, manufacture, marketing, and servicing of plasma etch and deposition systems used primarily in the production of micro-electrical mechanical systems (MEMS) devices, such as sensors and accelerometers, as well as power devices.

The company's Deep Reactive Ion Etch (DRIE) systems are also employed in certain manufacturing techniques, such as 3-D interconnect structures formed by intricate silicon etching, also known as Deep Silicon Etch (DSE) for Through Silicon Vias (TSVs).

Products

DRIE Etch Products

The company has a line of silicon and dielectric DRIE etching systems used for process development activities and for the production fabrication of various kinds of MEMS and semiconductor devices. The main application markets for its DRIE products are the telecommunication, automotive, aerospace, computer peripheral, biomedical industries and semiconductor markets, including power devices and wafer level packaging applications.

The company's DRIE products are either single chamber (Tegal DRIE 110, 200) or cluster tool (Tegal DRIE 3200, 4200) systems featuring high density inductively coupled plasma etch reactors with magnetic plasma confinement. The company's tools can run its patented SHARP—Super High Aspect Ratio Process, achieving etched feature aspect ratios of approximately 100:1 in production environments. Its DRIE products are critical enablers for etching silicon and dielectric materials found in the power device, MEMS/MOEMS, photovoltaic, bio-tech, and hi-voltage markets.

Customers

The company's major customers include PerkinElmer Inc.; SVTC Technologies; and Diodes Fabtech Inc.

Marketing, Sales, and Service

The company sells and services its systems worldwide through a network of independent sales representatives and field service engineers in sales and service offices located throughout the world. It maintains third-party representatives in sales, service and process support capabilities in the United States, Germany, Japan, Korea, India, Turkey, Singapore, and Malaysia.

Competition

The company's principal competitors are Oxford Instruments; SPP Process Technology Systems, Ltd.; Lam Research Corporation; and Applied Materials, Inc.

Dispositions

In March 2010, the company completed the sale of the legacy Etch and physical vapor deposition (PVD) assets to OEM Group, Inc.

History

Tegal Corporation was founded in 1972.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
