About US Nickel Limited

Lumacom Limited (Lumacom or the company) is entirely focused on the commercial application of the science and owns the worldwide patents and all the rights associated with the LED-based signage system known as LumaSigns. The Company is operating in most parts of the world whilst continuing LumaSign product development at its laboratory facilities in Perth, Western Australia.

Products

LumaPanel

It's the Company's LumaPanel product that is particularly exciting, with its obvious use being in corporate and promotional signage applications (rooftop, building face and street level) conveying logos, promotions and advertising slogans and messages. Configured in its most cost effective form, the LumaPanel system is a regular, large format, static advertising billboard or roof-top sign by day, but at night it transforms into a full color, dynamic, illuminated display-capable of presenting any form of advertising, information and graphics.

LumaPole

LumaPole is a product that is just as spectacular. Considering a key LumaSign technology principle, it's easy to understand that when given a viewing distance of over half a mile or more, the pixel clusters can be placed far apart and affixed to a system of poles or similar structures, instead of a panel that provides a solid background. This results in a technology that allows the exterior of a very large structure or high-rise building to be transformed into a massive nighttime advertising medium, with no affect on the outward view of the occupants and the building's aesthetic appeal.

LumaVideo

LumaVideo provides an alternative to the traditional large format, full color, full matrix video screen product, with considerable pricing advantages. With varying pixel pitches and screen sizes, it is designed to suit a wide range of customer needs, from small and modest applications through to large, super-high resolution dynamic displays for sports stadiums and other entertainment venues.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
