About Vitran Corp Inc.

Vitran Corporation Inc. provides freight surface transportation and related logistics services in Canada and the United States.

Segments

The company's segments include Less-than-truckload services (LTL), Supply Chain Operation (SCO), and Truckload (TL) services.

LTL Services

Within the United States, the company operates primarily within the eastern, central, southwestern and western United States and delivers freight shipments. In addition, the company offers its services to the other regions in the United States through its strategic inter-regional relationships.

Within Canada, the company provides next-day service within Ontario, Quebec and parts of western Canada. The majority of its trans-Canada freight is shipped intermodally, whereby the company's containers are loaded onto rail cars and trans-loaded to Vitran facilities where Vitran's network of owner operators pick up and deliver the freight to various destinations. Vitran's Transborder Service Solution (inter-regional) provides over-the-road service between its Canadian LTL and U.S. LTL business units.

Supply Chain Operation (SCO)

The SCO involves the management and transportation of goods and the provision of information about such goods as they pass through the supply chain from manufacturer to end user. The SCO's role is to design a supply chain network for a customer, contract with the necessary suppliers (including Vitran's LTL services), implement the design and management of the logistical system. Vitran's SCO offers a range of services in Canada and the United States, including cross-docks, inventory management, flow-through distribution facilities, and distribution facilities that focus primarily on long-term customized supply chain solutions. In addition, SCO provides over-the-road or intermodal freight brokerage services with sales offices in Toronto, Montreal and Los Angeles.

Truckload

Vitran's Truckload business, operating as Frontier Transport Corporation (Frontier), provides truckload service within the United States. The business is primarily dry van but also offers temperature-controlled service in select markets. Frontier operates from two terminals, one in Atlanta and the other in Indianapolis where the main administration office is located.

ANALYSIS FEATURES

SWOT Analysis

SWOT, which stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats, is an analytical framework that identifies the internal and external factors that are favorable and unfavorable for a company.

Enhanced SWOT Analysis

Enhanced SWOT is a 3x3 grid that arranges strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats into one scheme:

How to use the strengths to take advantage of the opportunities?

How to use the strengths to reduce likelihood and impact of the threats?

How to overcome the weaknesses that obstruct taking advantage of the opportunities?

How to overcome the weaknesses that can make the threats a reality?

Upon answering these questions a company can develop a project plan to improve its business performance.

PESTEL Analysis

PESTEL (also termed as PESTLE) is an ideal tool to strategically analyze what influence different outside factors – political, economic, sociocultural, technological, environmental and legal – exert on a business to later chart its long term targets.

Being part of the external analysis when carrying out a strategic assessment or performing a market study, PESTEL gives an overview of diverse macro-environmental factors that any company should thoughtfully consider. By perceiving these outside environments, businesses can maximally benefit from the opportunities while minimizing the threats to the organization.

Key Factors Examined by PESTEL Analysis:

Political – What opportunities and pressures are brought by political bodies and what is the degree of public regulations' impact on the business?

Economic – What economic policies, trends and structures are expected to affect the organization, what is this influence's degree?

Sociological – What cultural and societal aspects will work upon the demand for the business's products and operations?

Technological – What impact do the technological aspects, innovations, incentives and barriers have on the organization?

Environmental – What environmental and ecological facets, both locally and farther afield, are likely to predetermine the business?

Legal – What laws and legislation will exert influence on the style the business is carried out?

IFE, EFE, IE Matrices

The Internal Factor Evaluation matrix (IFE matrix) is a strategic management tool helping audit or evaluate major weaknesses and strengths in a business's functional areas. In addition, IFE matrix serves as a basis for identifying and assessing relationships amongst those areas. The IFE matrix is utilised in strategy formulation.

The External Factor Evaluation matrix (EFE matrix) is a tool of strategic management that is typically utilised to assess current market conditions. It is an ideal instrument for visualising and prioritising the threats and opportunities a firm is facing.

The essential difference between the above mentioned matrices lies in the type of factors incorporated in the model; whilst the latter is engaged in internal factors, the former deals exceptionally with external factors – those exposed to social, political, economic, legal, etc. external forces.

Being a continuation of the EFE matrix and IFE matrix models, the Internal External matrix (IE matrix) rests upon an investigation of external and internal business factors integrated into one suggestive model.

Porter Five Forces Analysis

The Porter's five forces analysis studies the industry of operation and helps the company find new sources of competitive advantage. The analysis surveys an industry through five major questions:

What composes a threat of substitute products and services?

Is there a threat of new competitors entering the market?

What is the intensity of competitive rivalry?

How big is the bargaining power of buyers?

How significant is the bargaining power of suppliers?

VRIO Analysis

VRIO stands for Value, Rarity, Imitability, Organization. This analysis helps to evaluate all company's resources and capabilities and bring them together into one aggregate table that includes:

Tangible resources

Financial

Physical

Technological

Organizational

Intangible resources

Human

Innovation and Creativity

Reputation

Organizational capabilities

The result of the analysis gives a clear picture of company's competitive and economic implications, answering the questions if the resources mentioned above are:

Valuable?

Rare?

Costly to imitate?

Organized properly?
