REPORT SCOPE

The market is segmented on the basis of packaging type: PET bottles, glass bottles and others. This report will also outline in detail the following product segments: still water, carbonated water and functional water. This report identifies and analyzes the market based on product distribution channels: supermarkets and hypermarkets, convenience stores and drugstores, grocery stores and club stores, and “others.” Estimated values used are based on manufacturers’ total revenues.

Segmented by retail-market use also included in this report: restaurants, sports teams, residential and online. Each segment is analyzed in terms of current global market size forecast for 2016 with a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) from 2017 through 2022, and region sizing and forecasting for North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific and ROW. In addition to the data, the report provides insight on market demand drivers and supplier strategies. Key players are also profiled as well as the bottled water value chain.
