Summary:

The report provides an analysis of the healthcare landscape in the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) countries. The report estimates the Total Addressable Market (TAM) for the GCC healthcare sector from 2024 to 2030, offering country-specific projections. This analysis provides critical insights into the commercial potential and investment opportunities in the region's rapidly evolving healthcare ecosystem. The countries included in the analysis are Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates (UAE), Qatar, Kuwait, Oman, and Bahrain.

This report provides an in-depth analysis of the healthcare landscape in the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) countries—Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates (UAE), Qatar, Kuwait, Oman, and Bahrain. It offers a comprehensive assessment of key indicators, the structure of national healthcare systems, and opportunities for collaborative growth both within the region and globally.

A key focus of the report is the evaluation of government policies aimed at strengthening the healthcare sector. This includes assessing each country's commitment to enhancing healthcare infrastructure, expanding the healthcare workforce, and increasing public and private healthcare spending. The analysis highlights how national strategies such as Vision 2030 are driving systemic transformation within the sector. The report incorporates the latest available data, including figures on the number of hospitals, hospital beds, and specialized medical staff, with most datasets available up to 2023.

The study further examines the scale and diversity of healthcare infrastructure in the region, covering the number of hospitals, the development of specialized facilities, and the emergence of local biotech and pharmaceutical companies. It also highlights investment-friendly regulations and policy reforms that are fostering a favorable business environment for domestic and foreign stakeholders.

Report Scope

This report provides an in-depth analysis of the healthcare landscape in the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) countries—Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates (UAE), Qatar, Kuwait, Oman, and Bahrain. It offers a comprehensive assessment of key indicators, the structure of national healthcare systems, and opportunities for collaborative growth both within the region and globally.
