Abstracts

Report Scope:

The global hospital supply market generally consists of the following supplies: sterilization consumables (detergents and accessories); syringes and needles (general and specialized syringes); mobility aids and transportation equipment, which includes wheelchairs (manual and powered wheelchairs) and stretchers (manual and motorized stretchers); disposable hospital supplies (gowns, drapes, gloves, procedure kits and trays, and feeding tubes); and patient examination devices (thermometers and stethoscopes). In this study, both branded and non-branded hospital supplies are considered for such products. This report does not include medical devices used in hospitals, and market sizing is restricted to the product types mentioned above.

The scope of the report includes an overview of the global market for hospital supplies and analyses of global market trends, using 2017 as the base year and forecasting 2018 through 2023 with CAGR projections.

The report discusses technological, regulatory and economic trends that are affecting the market. It also explains the major drivers and regional dynamics of the global hospital supply market and current trends within the industry.

Hospital supply end users are categorized into clinics, hospitals and surgical centers. Regional analysis includes North America (U.S., Canada), Europe (U.K., Germany, France, Spain, Rest of Europe), Asia-Pacific (China, India, Japan and Rest of Asia-Pacific) and Rest of World.

The report concludes with detailed profiles of the major vendors in the global hospital supply market. Notable industry participants in this market include B. Braun, Becton & Dickinson, Advanced Sterilization Products Services Inc., 3M Healthcare and Kimberly

Clark. For market estimates, data has been provided for 2017, the base year, with forecasts for 2018 through 2023. Estimated values used are based on manufacturers' total and segmental revenues. Projected and forecasted revenue values are in constant U.S. dollars, unadjusted for inflation.
