As of now, the Global and China COVID-19 Coronavirus Cases have exceeded 200 million, and the Global and China epidemic has been basically under control, therefore, the World Bank has estimated the Global and China economic growth in 2021 and 2023. The World Bank predicts that the Global and China economic output is expected to expand 4 percent in 2021 while 3.8 percent in 2022. According to our research on Squash (Sport) market and Global and China economic environment, we forecast that the Global and China market size of Squash (Sport) will reach million $ in 2027 with a CAGR of % from 2022-2027.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, according to World Bank statistics, Global and China GDP has shrunk by about 3.5% in 2020. Entering 2021, Economic activity in many countries has started to recover and partially adapted to pandemic restrictions. The research and development of vaccines has made breakthrough progress, and many governments have also issued various policies to stimulate economic recovery, particularly in the United States, is likely to provide a strong boost to economic activity but prospects for sustainable growth vary widely between countries and sectors. Although the Global and China economy is recovering from the great depression caused by COVID-19, it will remain below pre-pandemic trends for a prolonged period. The pandemic has exacerbated the risks associated with the decade-long wave of Global and China debt accumulation. It is also likely to steepen the long-expected slowdown in potential growth over the next decade.

The world has entered the COVID-19 epidemic recovery period. In this complex
