Abstracts

The global stem cell market report segments the market by therapy, competition, and application area to name a few.

The report also looks into the therapeutic pipeline across different segments such as cardiovascular, neurology, orthopedics, dermatology, etc.

Lack of early stage funding and adaptability are few hurdles in this market, still markets such as EU5, USA, China, Japan, Australia are early adopters of this segment, closely followed by S Korea, India and few others.
